March 13 - 15, 2008

InterContinental Chicago Hotel
Chicago, Illinois, USA

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

This conference is for all health and mental health professionals with a special interest in the care of people with sexual concerns, not just sex therapists. Those wanting an overview of the state-of-the-art in assessment and treatment of sexual disorders should also register for the one-day pre-conference workshop entitled "Sexual Disorders: Evaluation and Management".

WHAT TO EXPECT

The SSTAR 2008 program is packed with the latest, cutting edge research to inform your practice and stimulate your research ideas. It features presentations by international experts in areas ranging from sexual arousal to sexual pain disorders, to randomized trials on medical and psychological treatments for male and female sexual dysfunctions. Workshops cover many topics, including the assessment and treatment of sexual dysfunctions, medical and psychosocial aspects of sexual pain, and a multi-cultural approach to sexuality and intimacy. In addition, a case presentation, several paper sessions, numerous posters, and many more presentations by leading experts in the area of sexuality await your discovery!

The meeting will be held at the Intercontinental Hotel, a beautiful historic building, built in 1929 as the Medinah Athletic Club and lavishly redone as a fine hotel. It is in the heart of the Magnificent Mile, the cultural and shopping center of the city. For St. Patrick's Day, you will even get to see the Chicago River turn green! The conference will offer many opportunities to spend time with colleagues and sample the tremendous variety Chicago has to offer. This includes world-class museums, a treasure trove of American architecture, live music from classical to jazz to home-grown blues, excellent restaurants and some of the best live theatre in the country. There will be a unique excursion to the Art Institute of Chicago for a specially-designed tour focusing on "Sexuality through the Eyes of the Artist".
